

Matthias Siebert joins HOBART management team

Offenburg, Germany – HOBART GmbH welcomes a new member to its management board. Matthias Siebert was appointed as the Director of After Sales Service in early April of this year and joined the company's management board. The 38-year-old will be Head of Service for HOBART warewashing, cooking and food preparation technologies in Germany and will continue developing this area.

Matthias Siebert has two Masters degrees – a Masters in Engineering and a Masters in Business Administration. He began his career at HOBART as International Project Manager Global Marine in 2015 and rendered outstanding services for the company in his role as Head of Global Marine Sales. In spring 2020, he was promoted to Business Unit Manager for Service taking over the role from Martin Sonntag, who has supported the function as Director of Production & System Technology since then.
